Darrin, Sherri and Doug: Words, however kind, can't mend your heartache for sure: but those who care and share your loss wish you comfort and peace of mind. May you find strength in the love of family and in the warm embrace of friends. Love, Linda

I offer my deepest condolences to the Hebert family. May your memories and reliance on "the God of comfort" bring you both comfort and strength during your time of sadness. (2Corinthians 1:3-4; 2Corinthians 4:7) I did not personally know David, I read his obituary,and hoped you would find a measure of comfort in knowing others do care also.

My heart goes out to your family. I pray that your family can take comfort from the promises from our loving God, who tells us in John 5:28 that soon our loved ones will be resurrected back to life. Revelation 21:4 also tells us that soon death and pain will be no more. May your family draw comfort from God, who is our true source of life.

David - I can hardly believe that this is true. I remember coming home from work years ago during a very rough time in my life and finding that my snow had been shoveled...you didn't even know who I was but you had been at your grandma's house and she told you that I was going through a divorce. You must have figured I could use the help. When your grandma introduced us and I offered to pay you you wouldn't take any money from me. David, were a great person with a heart of gold and I'm glad I can say that you were a friend of mine. I really enjoyed the times you would stop by during the day to visit me when I worked from home or any other time you happened to be in the neighborhood just to say hi. Give your grandma a great big hug for me and I'll make sure that I stop by to see you when I'm in heaven. Who knows, maybe you guys will be there to meet me at the gates. God Bless!

Sheri and Darin, words can not express how sorry I am for this, to happen, to you and to David. Know that every time I see a long shiney silver necklace it will put a smile on my face as I will always think of David's smile, and the good nature man that he is. You are in my thoughts and prayers. Love you both. Kerri
