To me, Cheryl was a bundle of warm unconditional love, who came into my hospital room, month after month during my almost four year saga at Beaumont Hospital. She was going through something at the time as well, and we encouraged each other. We shared our faith and our sisterhood. I am glad to have seen her recently in the weeks before her passing. But I can never have enough of Cheryl, her laugh and her love. I cannot think of a better angel to have in heaven...
