The ball game out at grandma's will be a memory that never will be forgot. Somehow she got hit in the nose an it bleed good. Years later we talked about that. She was gonna stay with grandma for awhile. With the nose incident that didn't come about. Any of the Confer side knows playing ball at grandma's was a big thing. It's just the incident of the memory not the fact she got hurt. To be clear. Another long lasting memory is brother Ted's wedding. We had got there early. Mary was running late. Course she had flower detail. Next thing I know here she is hey help me. Seems it was putting the flower deals on the end of the pews. My memory isn't quite sure though. The times I was at the Christmas get togethers. She had a arrangement or more for the center of the table. I would tease her about them
