Growing up Aunt Carolyn was a second mother to me. She cut my hair, pierced my ears and clothed me. She taught me to stand straight and look a person in the eyes when speaking to them because no one was better than I. She taught me to ice skate and some of my fondest memories are the chilly nights spent at Palmer Park in Detroit and the bologna sandwiches with white chips and Coke at Pontiac Lake and Bloomer State Park. I have a lifetime of memories of being loved by her. I love you Aunt Carolyn!❤️
